Berwick Rangers History

Formed in 1881, Berwick Rangers are famous nationally and internationally for their unique position as the only English club playing in the Scottish League as well as their famous Cup victory in 1967 against Glasgow Rangers which is still regarded as one of the biggest giant killing victories in British football. This has seen them receive regular media coverage for the uniqueness of their situation by mainstream media channels and the new generation of online bloggers and ground hoppers
